The State Teachers' Association has resulted in great good to the schools of our country also to the progressive teachers, individually, who have attended its meetings.

Believing that the time and money expended will prove a judicious and profitable investment to you, we would be glad to see you in attendedance at this meeting.

You may ask why should you attend this association. My answer would be: 1. The present is an age of organization, as shown by the fact that every department of human industry has its organization.

2. An attendance upon Associations creates a stronger social feeling among teachers and unites them by bonds of sympathy that are lasting and helpful. 3. Teachers enlarge their acquaint-

4. By the interchange of methods and views, teachers are often led to discard old lines of action and gain much information, thus making them strong-

5. An attendance upon Associations rests the teacher in that he sees new faces, new surroundings, as well as gaining a more accurate knowledge of other localities than his own little town

6. As a duty to his profession, the teacher should be found at Associations, where he grows and broadens in all that tends to elevate his calling and to W. D. Bay. dignify his work.

7. There he should reconsecrate his life to his vocation, filling his soul with the nobility of his task, and his heart with sympathy for those entrusted to his care; silently resolving that he will go home and do his work better this year than last, and anxiously waiting for the morning to arrive when he can enter the field with renewed pleasure and renewed zeal.
